WHOLE No 1126

A Genuine Know-Nothing.—During the sitting of the late convention in this city, a delegate from one of the rural districts in the north-west, paid a visit to the now State House. When the

"You must be a stranger at the Capitol," said the affable gentleman, who had volunteered to show him through the building. "Becoming associated with many of the laws upon the statute books, and with that class of politicians who are not apt to be cent here as law makers, we have determined to dispense with their services for the future, and to legislate exclusively by name."

ably regarded as a drawing of a new era in legislative affairs, gave vent to his thoughts in a single circulation—

When about to retire from the enclosure, he is heard to remark that he "wouldn't wonder the whole human race would soon be swept the face of the earth, and their places supplied with steam engines.—Columbus Enter-

"Proof is accumulating that Nathan Brown, who is jail in New Albany, on a charge of bigamy has six wives instead of the three he owns to. That's doing the thing up 'Brown.'"

"This is the same 'Nathan Brown' who went to Floyd County last year. Know Nothing teacher of violence and for the further purpose of converting 'old ladies' from their precious iniquities—by 'persuading the Lord in true Know-Nothing style in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ—'—and the New Albany Brass Knuck Union are guilty of great ingratitude in refusing to bail their beloved and faithful brother out of jail. K. N. preachers and teachers of violence are enemies of the Lord Jesus Christ. In the way of slavery, and Nathan Brown is every fair specimen of K. N. morality teachers

Pride.—Pride is a louder beggar than want and a great deal more money. When you have bought one fine thing you must buy ten more, till you may be of a piece. But poor Dick says is wiser to suppress the first desire to think to say all that follow. "And it is not too late to be a beggar."

But, ma, I like her, she is a good little girl, and 77- "An old fashioned mixed captain stood up

"Oh, never mind wash it," answered the commander, "never mind; I can wash my hands when we've done."

Lady Decorated on the Field of Battle.—In the attack on the Mameluk was going on, an English lady, the wife of one of the officers present, and displaying great coolness and courage. General Pamelator observing this, took up and cut off a medal from the coat of a dead Russian officer, and in the most gallant ner, and with a very pretty complexion, and it on her cheek, saying she had fairly met it. The general is a great favorite with Mary, and the lady, who has great personal attractions, and is the daughter of an old general war, highly prizes the medal, which she literally earned on the field of battle.

Different Regulations.—The rules governing "theatre of war" at Sebastopol are different in such establishments at home. Those who are "checked" at most places of amusement are not denied admission, but at Sebastopol, the man having received one, is denied entrance, positively by the door-keepers.

An English officer visiting the cemetery of a Russian Church at Kertch, was greatly surprised to find a number of new graves. As no one had been killed, and as no epidemic malady prevailed there, he conceived suspicions and had the graves opened. He found in them fifty magnificent brass guns, quite new, and a great quantity

There are now in circulation bills purporting to be on the "Delaware City Bank," established on "space basis." In some obscure place on this may be found in a very obscure letter; the word "Kan." These bills are a dead swindle. I am known as "Kansas Money." The bills

If you would avoid danger, beware of the party of a woman, and the heels of a mule; but against an abolition parson, be on your guard at points.

Police Highwaysman.—Accounts from Mexico state that the diligence between Toluca and Mexico had been stopped by robbers, and the passengers plundered of $2,000. This affair was in the most genteel manner. A lady passenger had a ring of great value on her finger, which one of the robbers strove in vain to get off, adding that he could not succeed. He hurried

Two Germans named Leonard Weismann and John Swink, became engaged in a fight at a house in Hamilton, day before yesterday, during which the latter was stabbed by the former and almost instantly killed. Steigmann

one of the western villages lately passed an ordinance forbidding taverns to sell liquor on Sabbath to any person except travelers. The last Sunday every man in town was seen walking around town with a carpet bag in one hand and a cask in the other.

To Save Fruit Trees.—For preventing forks in trees from splitting under their weight, Mr. J. L. Lewis, of Hopkinsville, Kentucky, gives us his plan, which can be performed any time. "My plan," he writes, "which I have followed for thirty years, is this: When I have felled a tree which I wish to split, I place

A small tree which is found in Egypt, India, and a small bush on each toric, and clean them of leaves and lateral branches for most of their height. Then carefully bring them together, and wind them around each other from one man to the other. In twelve months they will be united, and in two years the ends can be cut off. This braid will grow as fast as a young tree.

firing. I have them now of all sizes, and nearly know one to fail to grow."—Los Angeles Journal
